The Paper

Readers in three shires, Tenterfield, Stanthorpe and Severn, buy the Tenterfield Star on a regular basis. Townspeople and those in the rural community depend on their Tenterfield Star - the only local newspaper in the area since 1870 - for their local news and information. In many cases it is their only source of local news, as radio reception in many areas of the district is poor to non-existent. Published bi-weekly, the Tenterfield Star is available through a number of newsagents and stores in the circulation area, subscription and home delivery.

The Market

Tenterfield, at the northern tip of the New England region of New South Wales is a popular tourist destination for holidaymakers seeking the tranquility of picturesque national parks, with Tourism New South Wales recording some $15 million tourist dollars spent in the shire each year. It is the home of the famous Tenterfield Saddler, featured in Peter Allen's song of the same name and the real Tenterfield Saddler's shop is still operating in the town. With its cool temperate climate and close proximity to major centres such as Brisbane, Lismore and Armidale, the district is becoming popular with retirees and young families. The district relies mainly on its rural industries for income. Traditional industries include beef, wool and mutton. In recent years there has been significant growth in alternate rural industries such as fruit and vegetable crops, wine grapes and farming of native and exotic animals.
